DSWD firms up services for adolescent moms

MANILA – With teenage pregnancy remaining a national concern, the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) is strengthening its services for adolescent mothers to ensure their psychological and social well-being as they navigate early parenthood.

Project Development

Officer Diane Gianan of the DSWD's Social Technology Bureau said the agency is intensifying efforts in expanding its Psychosocial Support and Other Interventions for Adolescent Mothers and their Families Project (ProtecTEEN), which aims to prevent teenage pregnancy and support young mothers.

Initially piloted in 2023 and expanded in 2024, ProtecTEEN provides psychosocial and other essential interventions for adolescent mothers and their families. It aligns with Executive Order 141, which prioritizes addressing the root causes of teenage pregnancy.

"It is the only project in the country that provides a comprehensive package of services for adolescent mothers and their families," Gianan told reporters at the Thursday media forum at the DSWD central office in Quezon City.

Gianan said the initiative of the DSWD does not only benefit adolescent mothers aged 10 to 19, but

First in Southeast Asia: Medicine drone delivery launched in Rizal

PILILLA, Rizal (PIA) — Residents of Calabarzon living in remote communities can expect more efficient access to medicines as the Department of Information and Communications Technology (DICT) Region 4A, in partnership with mWell and the Philippine Flying Labs, launched the country's first medicine drone delivery service.

DICT Secretary Ivan John Uy and Department of Health Assistant Secretary Ariel Valencia, along with other national and local government officials, led the project's launch on January 31 in Barangay Niugan, Pililla, Rizal.

Uy said that the Philippines is the first country in Southeast Asia to use drone technology for delivering medicines to remote communities.

"This is the first in Southeast Asia to implement drone delivery specifically for medicine distribution in remote areas. We decided to pilot it in a fifth-class municipality and barangay to assess its impact on the community and

DTI issues new SRP; 77 items hike prices

MANILA – The Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) on Thursday issued the latest suggested retail price (SRP) bulletin of basic necessities and prime commodities, more than a year after its last release on Jan. 12 last year.

DTI data showed that out of 191 shelf-keeping units (SKUs) in the latest SRP list, 77 items or 40 percent of the SKUs have increased their SRPs.

Basic necessities and prime commodities that hiked their prices include canned sardines (7), condensed milk (1), evaporated milk (1), powdered (1), coffee refill (5), coffee 3-in-1 (4), bread (2), instant noodles (3), candles (5), luncheon meat (1), meat loaf (1) corned beef (4), beef loaf (3), salt (6), bottled water (5), condiments (15), toilet soap (6), detergent and laundry soap (6), and battery (1).

For instance, the SRP increase of canned sardines ranges between 5 to 15 percent, or 2 centavos to PHP2.73 increment for a 155-understand the various factors that need to be considered," Uy told the Philippine Information Agency Calabarzon.

Uy added that the initiative has positioned the Philippines alongside other countries that harness technology for development.

"Hindi po tayo natatakot na manguna. Tayo po ang magiging ehemplo sa buong mundo kung paano gamitin ang teknolohiya sa ikauunlad ng ating bayan at para sa ikaaasenso ng ating mamamayan. The Philippines today stands as a role model," the DICT Secretary emphasized.

According to DICT, the pioneering initiative is part of the SMART Villages and SMART Islands program, which demonstrates the transformative potential of digital solutions in enhancing community health and well-being.

The DICT has partnered with mWell, a subsidiary of Metro Pacific Investments Corporation, which offers an integrated tech-based healthcare platform in the Philippines.

This medicine drone delivery integrates the mWell Telemedicine platform, enabling residents to consult with medical professionals remotely and receive their medications promptly using the drone technology.

According to mWell, the lack of access to medicines in remote health centers inspired them to establish the medicine drone delivery service in collaboration with the Philippine Flying Labs and DICT.

Milk SRPs have an increase of 6 to 10 percent, or from PHP2.50 to PHP6 depending on brand and unit.

For coffee, the SRP hike approved by the department ranges between 6 to 11 percent, or from 45 centavos to PHP2.20.

"We have received feedback that after consultations, doctors prescribe medicines that are sometimes unavailable in health centers. Since these patients are in remote areas, we thought about how to get the medicines to them. That's why we partnered with the Philippine Flying Labs, which offers drone delivery services," said Tisha Qunitio, mWell's Business Development Head.

"Our goal is to send medicines using drones. After an mWell teleconsultation, with just a click on their tablet, medicines can be delivered directly to remote areas via drone," she added.

Qunitio also mentioned that they are targeting remote locations covered by DICT's Broadband ng Masa (BBM) program for the medicine drone delivery project.

Residents and barangay officials thanked the DICT, stating that the project would benefit senior citizens and persons with disabilities by reducing the need for them to travel long distances just to access medications.

The DICT will conduct further studies on how to operationalize the medicine drone delivery system and expand its implementation nationwide.

With this innovation, the DICT and DOH are confident in addressing challenges in the healthcare sector, paving the way for more accessible and high-quality medical services for all. (FSC, PIA4A)

Instant noodles have SRP increment ranging from 1 to 7 percent, or from 10 to 50 centavos.

Since the SRP bulletin dated Feb. 8, 2023, SRPs for Pinoy Pandesal and Pinoy Tasty have not moved. In the latest issuance, the SRP of 250g Pinoy Pandesal and 450g

The total family approach enjoins their spouses, and other household members to also become 'empowered' to create a supportive atmosphere at home, and an enabling environment for shared, responsible parenting.

We have clients who shared that their aunts, their guardians were also teen mothers.

Pinoy Tasty increased by PHP2.25 to PHP3.50.

On the other hand, six products have lower SRPs, including canned sardines (2) and bottled water (4).

SRP changes in canned sardines were only below 10 centavos while a decrease in SRP of bottled water was as high as PHP3.

Some 108 items have not changed their SRPs in the latest bulletin.

The program also focuses on reducing repeat pregnancies among adolescent mothers.

"While bearing children is considered a blessing, dapat sa tamang panahon at sa tamang rason (it should be at the right time and for the right reason)," Gianan said.

DSWD interventions under ProtecTEEN include family healing sessions, case management, livelihood and educational assistance, capability-building activities, and referrals to other government or private organizations.

with expired licenses, for safekeeping and disposal before and during the election period. The measure aims to prevent gun-related violence during the elections.

Additionally, 1,187 firearms were surrendered to authorities through Oplan Katok, a police initiative where officers visit the homes of registered gun owners to verify whether their firearms are still in their possession.

Other law enforcement operations, including the implementation of search warrants, checkpoint operations, police patrols, and Oplan Bakal, led to the recovery of 414 firearms and the arrest of 313 individuals for violating the Comprehensive Firearms and Ammunition Regulation Act.

Police Colonel Melvin Napiloy, Deputy Regional Director for Administration of PRO IV-A, said that the recent accomplishments of the Calabarzon police reflect their commitment to preventing election-related violence.

"We assure the public that the PNP, in coordination with the Commission on Elections and other frontline government agencies, will continue the strict enforcement of the gun ban to safeguard the integrity of the electoral process."

Napiloy also reminded the public that unauthorized carrying, possession, or transport of firearms and deadly weapons during the election period is strictly prohibited and may result in legal consequences under the Omnibus Election Code.

"We urge the public to remain vigilant and report any violations to the nearest police station or through our hotlines. Your cooperation is vital in ensuring a safe, fair, and peaceful election."

According to the Commission on Elections IV-A, Calabarzon remains the most vote-rich region in the country, with 9.7 million registered voters, including over 1 million first-time voters.

have the same access to electricity. This is a disservice to our learners and hardworking teachers," he added.

Energy Secretary Rafael Popo Lotilla, who witnessed the MOA signing, expressed full support for the administration's interagency partnerships.

"The signing of this agreement is the very demonstration of our shared resolve to illuminate every classroom, help every teacher, and unlock the full potential of our learners," he said.

Lotilla, however, said the country needs around PHP85 billion to PHP100 billion funds to achieve the administration's electrification targets by 2028, benefitting not only the household levels but also schools.

"But as of this, the average budget has only been PHP2 (billion) to PHP3 billion a year, and therefore, we have a long way to go. So we are looking at ways and means to achieve the total electrification goal," he said. (PNA)

DepEd, NEA partner to electrify last-mile schools in PH

MANILA – The Department of Education (DepEd) on Wednesday partnered with the National Electrification Administration (NEA) to electrify last mile schools in the country.

In a speech, DepEd Secretary Sonny Angara underscored the urgency to secure the partnership to ensure the learner's welfare amid the Marcos administration's electrification programs for off-grid schools.

“Now power is a basic (need), kapag wala tayong power, wala ho tayo. Kaya iyong binibigay natin ngayon hindi lang kuryente iyan, hindi lang ilaw, pag-asa ang ibinibigay natin sa ating kababayan (if we don't have power, we are nothing. That's why what we are granting today is not just electricity, not just light, but we are giving hope to our fellow countrymen),” he said ahead of the signing of memorandum of agreement (MOA) with NEA.

Angara earlier said there are around 1,500 public schools that still need access to electricity.

Most of these schools are in the Bangsamoro Autonomous Region in Muslim Mindanao (BARMM), and the provinces of North Cotabato, Palawan, Cebu, Zamboanga del Sur, and Negros Oriental.

Under the MOA, the DepEd will release funds from its electrification of off-grid schools project, while NEA will design solar power systems to be procured considering parameters and specifications needed for last mile schools.

The DepEd has around PHP1.295 billion in funds for the electrification project, particularly for the purchase and installation of solar power systems.

For his part, NEA Administrator Antonio Mariano Almeda said electrifying off-grid public schools is a “minimum” requirement to ensure modernized quality education.

“The digital age has introduced modern ways of learning and teaching which are heavily reliant on access to electricity. Our schools ideally must have electricity for access to modern teaching tools like the internet,” he said in a separate speech.

“It is, however, obvious that not all public schools, particularly our last mile schools,
