DSWD opens new help desk for minors traveling abroad at NAIA 1

MANILA – The Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) officially launched its new Minors Traveling Abroad (MTA) help desk at the Ninoy Aquino International Airport (NAIA) Terminal 1 on Monday.

In a statement on Tuesday, Assistant Secretary Irene Dum-lao said the new help desk will provide immediate support for traveling minors requiring urgent assistance.

“The DSWD’s MTA help desk is now open to assist families and minor travelers at the NAIA Terminal 1. The facility aims to cater to urgent concerns on the travel clearance applications for minors traveling alone and inquiries regarding minors traveling with companions other than their parents,” the DSWD spokesperson said.

“The opening of the NAIA Terminal

1 help desk expands the agency’s reach in major airports. Other MTA help desks can be found at NAIA Terminal 3 in Pasay City, Clark International Airport (CIA), Mactan-Cebu International Airport (MCIA), and Francisco Bangoy International Airport in Davao,” she said.

The DSWD spokes-

The issuance of the TCC is also speci-

CALABARZON workers among top earners in PH

Laguna (PIA) – Workers in the CALABARZON region were reported among the top earners in the Philippines, trailing only the National Capital Region (NCR), according to the 2024

Survey of the Philippines Statistics Authority (PSA).

In a media forum, Adrian Cerezo, Assistant National Statistician, reported that CALABARZON posted a P19,711 average monthly wage rate. It is the second-highest average monthly wage in the country, behind the National Capital Region (NCR) with an average monthly wage of P29,310.00

Other regions posting the highest average monthly wages include Central Visayas (P19,084), Central Luzon (P18,274), and the Davao Region (P17,953).

Despite national trends, women in CALABARZON earn less

Also, despite posting second in the national average, the data highlights a persistent gender pay gap among workers in CALABARZON.

On a national scale, female workers nationwide are earning more than their male counterparts—averaging P22,236.00 compared to P21,009 for males. However, the trend is reversed in CALABARZON, where female employees are earning less than their Pag-IBIG Fund Board of Trustees, said.

"With the enhancements to our Super Sale, we are making participation easier and more affordable for more buyers."

The strengthened program supports the administration's Expanded Pambansang Pabahay para sa Pilipino (Expanded 4PH) Program by offering families a faster, more affordable way to secure decent housing, he added.

Under the updated guidelines, Pag-IBIG Fund reduced the required down payment for cash and short-term installment purchases to 3 percent of the net selling price, from the previous 5 percent. Bidders may also now submit offers for up to three properties per batch of published listings.

Pag-IBIG Fund Chief Executive Officer

Marilene Acosta said the enhancements aim to make homeownership more attainable, including for long-time occupants of foreclosed properties who want to legally acquire the homes they currently reside in.

"By offering larger discounts and lowering upfront costs through the Super Sale, we are giving more Filipino workers the opportunity to finally own a home," Acosta said.

"For current occupants, this is also the best time to settle with Pag-IBIG Fund and become legitimate homeowners."

For those not ready to purchase, Acosta said the agency continues to offer lease options for up to three years, with the initial requirement lowered to a one-month advance rent from the previous two months. (PNA)

Cerezo noted a 'positive value' wage gap, favoring men in the formal sector over their female colleagues.

"Let's keep in mind that this is under formal employment, [such as] establishments."

In a separate press release, the PSA Region IV-A further noted the wage gap between male and female workers in the region.

"In 2024, male workers in CALABARZON earned a higher average monthly wage of P20,313, compared to P19,025 for female workers."

Based on reports by the PSA, the Department of Labor Employment (DOLE), and the Department of Economy, Planning and Development (DepDev), there are 12.333 million individuals aged 15 years old and above in the CALABARZON region.

It also recorded a 93.4 percent employment rate, where six out of 10 individuals are part of the labor force. (PB-PIA4A, Philippine Statistics Authority, DepDev IV-A)

The Office of the Provincial Cooperatives Development Officer (OPCDO), brought key stakeholders to the same room during the event “Forging Synergies for Inclusive Growth: A Consultative Meeting on MSME Program Convergence with the Micro, Small and Medium Enterprise Development (MSMED) Plan 2025–2028,” held on December 4, at the New Provincial Government Center in Trece Martires City.

The day-long engagement convened 48 participants representing 32 agencies, composed of local government units (LGUs), provincial offices, national government agencies, and non-government organizations. The broad participation highlighted a shared commitment to strengthening collaboration and aligning programs toward a unified, inclusive, and future-ready MSME development agenda for the province.

In her welcome remarks, Ms. Myrachel P. Cuadra, Officer-in-Charge of OPCDO, emphasized that meaningful growth for micro, small, and medium enterprises is best achieved through strong inter-agency convergence. Messages of support followed from Ms. Sheryll S. Loyola, Chairperson of the Provincial Government of Cavite Employees and Community Multi-purpose Cooperative (PGCECC) and Livelihood Division Head of OPCDO, and Ms.

Lilibeth R. Chavez, OIC Provincial Director of the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) Cavite, both underscoring the importance of inclusive, sustainable, and resilient MSME development.

Setting the direction for the discussions, Ms. Liza C. Gabatan, Entrepreneurial Division Head of OPCDO, presented an overview of the activity, outlining its objectives and the critical role of coordination in translating policy into impact. The morning session was highlighted by the presentation of the MSMED Plan 2025–2028 by Ms. Susan Mae Salonga, Assistant Director of the Bureau of Small and Medium Enterprise Development (BSMED)–DTI. Her comprehensive discussion of national MSME priorities was followed by an interactive question-and-answer segment, allowing participants to clarify strategies and identify concrete opportunities for program alignment.

Existing MSME programs and services of LGUs and other stakeholders which were collated beforehand by the OPCDO was then presented, fostering transparency and surfacing areas for complementation and convergence. In the afternoon, stakeholders took part in a workshop session on MSME program alignment with the MSMED Plan 2025–2028, translating national strategies into actionable provincial and local initiatives.

The consultative meeting concluded with action planning and presentations of the harmonized Cavite MSME Development Plan and convergence opportunities, capped by a Pledge of Support and Commitment Setting. This collective affirmation reinforced the resolve of partner agencies and stakeholders to move forward not in silos, but in synergy.

Overall, activity marked a significant step toward institutionalizing program convergence in Cavite ensuring that MSME interventions are coordinated, inclusive, and responsive, and that economic growth across the province is not only sustained, but shared.

ATI CALABARZON launches internship program for next-gen farmers

STO. TOMAS CITY, Batangas (PIA) – The Agriculture Training Institute (ATI) is once more opening its internship program with a goal to revolutionize the local coconut industry with the help of the next generation of farmers.

In an interview with the Philippine Information Agency-Calabarzon's PIA Ngayon radio program, Vira Elyssa Jamolyn, chief of Career Development and Management Section at ATI CALABARZON, noted that the Youth Internship Program for the Children of Coconut Farmers provides hands-on training and internship for the children of coconut farmers.

"This internship program is intended for the children of coconut farmers. We also offer other internship programs for specialized areas [like] organic agriculture, corn, and other categories."

The Youth Internship Program for the Children of Coconut Farmers is a highly-specialized, 21-month internship program designed to instill and develop among its interns an appreciation and adoption of coconut production technologies and enterprise.

In partnership with ATI's accredited Learning Sites for Agriculture (LSA) specializing in coconut production and other farm partners and cooperatives, the two-year program is divided into two tiers: hands-on internship during the first year, and mentorship based on their agri-business proposals during the second year.

Providing training both on crop production and agribusiness, it provides start-up support and mentoring for implementing their Business Enterprise Plan involving the coconut value chain.

"We want our interns to stay at a farm where they can be mentored by our farm partners where they will stay for nine months," Jamolyn said.

With a goal to integrate farming technologies and modern practices to coconut production, the internship program is intended for the children of coconut farmers.

"We admit interns based on the region's share of the country's total coconut production and the total land area for coconut. We are definitely one of the top coconut producing regions."

For its first run, the ATI admitted six interns for the Youth Internship Program for the Children of Coconut Farmers. Currently, the program is mentoring five interns with ongoing recruitment.

In 2022, the CALABARZON region was the fourth top-producer for coconut with 485,197 hectares or 13.3 percent share of the country's entire coconut production. (PB-PIA4A)

BFAR, PFDA retirees honor WPS frontliners with holiday gifts

MANILA – The Department of Agriculture-Bureau of Fisheries and Aquatic Resources (DA-BFAR) and Philippine Fisheries Development Authority (PFDA) retirees distributed Christmas gifts on Monday to honor frontliners in the West Philippine Sea (WPS).

In an interview, BFAR Spokesperson Nazario Briguera said the initiative recognizes the efforts of BFAR researchers and vessel crew members who "protect" marine resources in the WPS.

Beyond the material assistance, the gesture serves as a morale booster for personnel performing challenging duties at sea.

"Gusto nilang kilalanin 'yung mga efforts ng ating mga tauhan na pumapalayang sa (We want to recognize the efforts of our personnel who are sailing in the) West Philippine Sea, and we welcome that," he said.

BFAR chief engineer Armilo Pagliawan, one of the beneficiaries, expressed gratitude for the support, saying BFAR personnel remain committed to continuing their missions in the WPS to assist local fishers despite difficult conditions.

"Lubos kaming nagpapasalamat sa handog at kami po sa mandato ng BFAR, patuloy kaming magpupunta sa West Philippine Sea upang matulungan namin ang aming mangingisda (We sincerely thank them for their gifts and in our mandate in BFAR, we will continually go the West Philippine Sea to help our fishers)," he said in a separate interview.

About 160 BFAR vessel personnel received the Christmas packages.

The kits include water-repellent bags,

PHA warns public vs. 'holiday heart syndrome' amid Christmas feasts

MANILA – The Philippine Heart Association (PHA) on Monday reminded the public to manage food and alcohol intake during the holiday season, warning that overeating, extremely sweet dishes and excessive drinking could trigger “holiday heart syndrome,” a condition associated with irregular heart rhythms.

In the latest episode of Usapang Puso sa Puso, PHA cardiologist Dr. Iris Garcia cautioned Filipinos against skipping maintenance medications and neglecting routine health monitoring amid Christmas celebrations.

“Despite it being a holiday, we still need proper sleep, monitor blood pressure and blood sugar, and take our maintenance medications. Hindi po cheat day ang Christmas. Maawa po tayong sa puso natin (Christmas is not cheat day. Take care of your heart),” Garcia said.

Heavy meals and alcohol consumption can elevate risks, especially for individuals with hypertension, diabetes and high cholesterol, she added.

Garcia said some patients tend to skip medications during festivities, believing the season allows for flexibility in routine.

“Just because [it’s a] holiday [it] doesn’t mean holiday din tayong sa pag-inom ng maintenance (we’re also on a holiday with regard to taking maintenance medicines),” she added.

HEALTHY CHRISTMAS DISH. Philippine Heart Association Advocacy Committee chair Dr. Iris Garcia (left) and Chef RV Manabat share tips on how to prepare heart-friendly Christmas dishes using natural ingredients during a cooking episode of Usapang Puso sa Puso on Monday (Dec. 22, 2025) in Biñan, Laguna. Garcia reminded the public to take care of their hearts during the holidays by avoiding overindulgence and continuing to take their maintenance medicines if they have any. (Screengrab from PHA video)

Disruption of normal heart rhythm, as in holiday heart syndrome, may be caused by too much stress, insufficient sleep, and high intake of salty or fatty foods, apart from drinking alcohol.

During the program, chef and food content creator RV Manabat demonstrated simple ways to make holiday dishes healthier. He encouraged the use of natural and local ingredients instead of unnecessary additives.

“When an ingredient is natural, naiintindihan mo agad ‘yung nasa label (you immediately understand what’s on the label). The more natural and fresh, the better for health,” Manabat said.

He advised reducing added sugar in desserts by allowing the main ingredient to stand out, noting that excessive sweetness can mask natural flavors. He recommended alternative sweeteners such as coconut sugar or muscovado for certain recipes.

On alcohol consumption, Manabat said drinks should complement food rather than be consumed with the intention of intoxication.

“Alcohol should be paired with food. You have to learn the art of pairing,” he said.

Garcia reiterated that moderation remains key for patients worried about holiday meals.

“Hindi naman bawal; in moderation lang talaga (It’s not prohibited; you just have to observe moderation),” she said.

The PHA said Christmas remains a time for celebration but warned against habits that may lead to complications.

Meanwhile, Dr. Monrey Isaiah Mancilla, head of the Department of Health - Bicol Health Promotion Unit, said the holiday heart syndrome can affect those with pre-ex-

Japan eyes stricter residency requirement for naturalization

TOKYO – The Japanese government and ruling parties began considering tightening the requirement for acquiring Japanese nationality to 10 years of residency or longer in principle, compared with the current five years, informed sources said Monday.

By extending the necessary period of residency to at least 10 years, Japan would bring the nationality requirement in line with that for obtaining permanent residency.

The move is expected to be implemented by changing how the nationality law, which stipulates the requirements for naturalization, is administered instead of by revising the law.

In September, the Japan Innovation Party (Nippon Ishin no Kai), an opposition party at the time and now a junior ruling party, noted in a policy proposal that the requirement for naturalization, which gives successful applicants a greater legal status, is laxer than that for permanent residency.

Similar concerns have been raised in the main ruling Liberal Democratic Party, prompting Prime Minister Sanae Takaichi, the party’s president, to instruct her government to review the system.

The nationality law requires those seeking Japanese nationality to meet such requirements as having lived in Japan continuously for at least five years, being 18 or older, exhibiting good behavior, being able to support themselves financially, and complying with the Constitution.

The Justice Ministry says that these are the minimum requirements and that meeting all of them does not guarantee Japanese nationality. The ministry believes the requirements can be tightened by changing how the law is administered.

Meanwhile, the government plans to make exceptions for certain applicants, such as allowing athletes who have competed in Japan for a certain period to acquire nationality even if they do not meet the 10-year residency requirement.

The tighter residency requirement is expected to be included in an outline of the government’s policy on foreign nationals slated to be released as early as next month.

According to the ministry, 12,248 people applied for naturalization in 2024, with 8,863 approved. (Jiji Press)

PNP braces for Christmas travel rush

MANILA – The Philippine National Police (PNP) has placed all units on alert ahead of the expected surge of travelers during the holidays, the agency said Sunday.

PNP acting chief Lt. Gen. Jose Melencio C. Nartatez Jr. ordered enhanced security measures and increased police visibility in ports, terminals, and other transport hubs nationwide as millions of Filipinos travel to their home provinces for Christmas.

Local police units were instructed to carefully plan and adjust personnel deployment in major transport hubs to ensure passenger safety and the orderly movement of travelers.

“I have directed our local police units to strategize the deployment of personnel in ports and terminals to increase police presence in these public areas,” Nartatez said in a statement.

“Our security measures are in place and part of them is the regular adjustments based on the situation on the ground. As expected, there have been a noticeable increase on the number of people in the terminals and the roads leading to transportation hubs, and we have been directing our personnel and resources in these areas to ensure public safety,” he added.

More than 100,000 police personnel will be deployed nationwide during the Christmas and New Year period to secure transport terminals, major roads, business districts, and residential areas.

This figure is significantly higher than last year’s 60,000.

Nartatez also urged the public to follow travel rules, cooperate with authorities, and

Filipinas set sights on coming big battles

MISSION ACCOMPLISHED. *The Philippine women's national football team celebrates after winning the 33rd Southeast Asian Games gold medal at the Chonburi Daikin Stadium in Thailand on Thursday (Dec. 18, 2025). MANILA – The Philippine women's national football team, the newly crowned Southeast Asian (SEA) Games champion, is setting its sights on the Asian Football Confederation (AFC) Asian Cup set for March next year in Australia.

The Asian Cup serves as a pathway to the 2027 FIFA Women's World Cup in Brazil.

"We'll enjoy this one, we have to enjoy this one because it's been a long time coming for this country to win the SEA Games. We'll rest a little bit and then we have to get ready for the Asian Cup," coach Mark Torcaso said in a news release Friday.

The Filipinas made history after a stunning

6-5 victory over eight-time champion Vietnam on Thursday.

Torcaso is optimistic that the Filipinas will perform well in their next tournament.

"We saw how disciplined our girls can be against good teams and I truly believe that we can do that against Australia or South Korea and Iran and I truly believe that we can do something special there as well and go to another World Cup," he said.

The Philippines has to finish in the Top 2 against host Australia, South Korea, and Iran in Group A to reach the quarterfinal round where the four winners will advance to the World Cup and the four losers will contest two other spots in the play-in matches.

"The most pleasing thing for me in this competition (SEA Games) was we showed that we've got a group of players here, both experienced and young players that are ready to fight for our country right from the start of the game to the end of the game, even penalty shootouts," Torcaso said. (PNA)

MANILA – The Philippines proved its supremacy in basketball at the 33rd Southeast Asian Games after beating host Thailand in the men's and women's divisions at the Nimibutr Stadium in Bangkok Friday night.

Gilas Pilipinas relied on a 13-0 run in the fourth quarter, anchored by Jamie Malonzo, to prevail, 70-64, and retain the men's basketball title.

"Right now, it's No. 1 in my books," coach Norman Black said, comparing the hard-fought triumph to his titles in the PBA and UAAP, and his role in the Philippines' run to the gold in the 2011 Games in Indonesia.

Malonzo finished with 17 points, 12 rebounds, three assists, and five steals.

Thailand's decision to impose a ban on naturalized players and those who failed to receive a passport before the age of 16 prompted Gilas to tap five PBA players in Robert Bolick, Poy Erram, Dalph Panopio, Abu Tratter, and Von Pessumal, plus Adamson center Cedrick Manzano and free agents Jamie Malonzo and Justin Chua.

"I never thought I would be included. We would have liked to have seen Remy Martin, Mike Phillips, (Justin) Brownlee. We wanted to see that in the Philippines, but it didn't happen because of circumstances. They (Thailand) thought if we were the only ones, it would be easy, but we were ready," Bolick said.

Bolick, who scored 10 points, joined hands with Matthew Wright and Malonzo to put Gilas ahead in the third quarter, 41-38, from a 29-38 half-time deficit.

Led by Chanato Jakwaran and Emmanuel Chinedu Ejebu, Thailand wrested the upper hand at 55-54 in the fourth quarter.

Gilas fought back to regain the lead at 67-55, 4:14 remaining, but Thailand rallied to within 68-64, when Jainasuk Nakom hit three free throws off a Thirty Ravena foul, 47.8 seconds to go.

The Gilas women's team, meanwhile, was led by veteran skipper Afril Bernardino, who delivered 19 points and 12 rebounds en route to a 73-70 victory.

Kacey Dela Rosa chipped in 17 points and 16 rebounds, while Sophia Dignadice had 10 points and two assists.

Supavadee Kunchuan finished with 17 points and six rebounds for Thailand, which held a 7-0 run to move within 72-70.

Chuck Cabinbin's free throw made it 73-70 in the last 16.9 seconds.

"I can't say anything about the girls. I'm so proud of them. They gave their all. I also like to thank Thailand for playing a good game today. It's been a hard battle going for the gold," head coach Patrick Aquino said.

"It's sweeter because we're not in the Philippines. This is what they really worked hard for. It was a tough game. It was just luck," added Aquino, who also steered the team to the title in Manila (2019) and in Hanoi (2022). (PNA)
